

Mitch Langan is a member of the Métis Nation of Saskatchewan. He was born and raised in Saskatchewan but his Metis routes tie back to the San Clara/Boggy Creek community of Manitoba. He holds Bachelor of Commerce and Master of Business Administration degrees both from the University of Saskatchewan. His passion is entrepreneurship, having been involved with various early-stage tech start ups as a side hustle.

He is an Investment Associate with Raven Indigenous Capital Partners and has been there for the last 3 and a half years. His work focuses on deal sourcing, due diligence, financial modeling/analysis investment structuring, and value creation post investment. Prior to joining Raven, Mitch was a commercial banker at the First Nations Bank of Canada, focused on directly supporting First Nations Governments, Economic Development entities and Indigenous owned Businesses.

Outside of Raven he serves as an Indigenous Innovation Advisory Council Member for Saskatchewan Indian Institute of Technologies' Pawâcikêwikamik Innovation Accelerator program, and a mentor for the Greg Yuel Fellowship. Mitch lives in Warman with his wife and 16 month old daughter
